CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL'S LIFE-SAVING LEGACY
FEATURED IN WQED'S *ONQ

PITTSBURGH – It's been a Pittsburgh institution for more than a century and it has quite a story to tell. With its move to a new facility in Lawrenceville, Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh of UPMC will be one of the most advanced health care and research facilities in the country.

OnQ's Tonia Caruso takes a look back at how the hospital first began and at the life saving innovations that were pioneered there. The Old Children's Hospital -- A Life Saving Legacy airs Tuesday, May 12th at 7:30pm on WQED-TV. It's a story of history and heart.

Caruso traces the story of Children's Hospital from its beginnings - it was the idea of a young boy - to its growth and development over the years. She talks with noted pediatrician Dr. Basil Zitelli, who has been at Children's for more than thirty years; looks back at some of the fund raising efforts; the most unusual visitor to the hospital; and interviews project manager Tom Hemming who is in charge of a collection of artifacts and information about the hospital.

WQED Pittsburgh, honored with the 2007 and 2006 Mid-Atlantic Emmy® Award for Station Excellence, was founded in 1954 as the nation's first community-supported broadcaster. WQED creates, produces and distributes quality programs, products and services to engage, inform, educate and entertain the public within its community and around the world. WQED Pittsburgh is one of the first broadcasters in the country to be fully high-definition (HD) in its studio and field production capabilities. It is the parent company of WQED-TV (PBS); WQED: The Neighborhood Channel; WQED: The Create Channel; WQEX-TV (A ShopNBC affiliate); WQED-FM 89.3/Pittsburgh; WQED-FM 89.7/Johnstown; a publishing division that includes PITTSBURGH MAGAZINE; local and national television and radio productions; WQED Interactive (www.wqed.org); and The WQED Education Department.
